

The Grenadines Islands 9 Days

NINE DAYS LUXURY YACHT CHARTER CRUISING FROM GRENADA TO ST. VINCENT

Day 1: Grenada

The perfect place to begin or end a cruise of the Grenadines. Beautiful Grenada continues to live up to its name as The Spice Island. This warm getaway is full of vivid blue lagoons, bleached sand, and national park delights and is brimming with marketplaces and charm. There is much to keep you connected to and occupied, from sampling chocolate on lovely private farms to taking in museum culture and history in the capital city of St George. The Grand Etang National Park offers a smorgasbord of waterfall treks, uncommon birds, and unusual flora and fauna for visitors in search of outdoor activities. Beach enthusiasts will feel right at home on Grand Anse's sands, where stunning coconut trees and azure skies create the perfect setting for escaping to paradise. Divers will find their Magnum Opus on the south side of the island, where they will find over 15 wrecks and the famed underwater sculpture park to tempt them into the blue.

Day 2: Grenada to Carriacou

The largest island in the Grenadines, Carriacou is a desolate getaway just off the coast of Grenada. This welcoming island, which only has a few thousand residents, never feels overcrowded. Instead, you are rewarded to stunning drifts, pure waterways, and skies in all shades of blue. The fact that Carriacou's name means "Isle of Reefs" is wonderful news for all snorkelers and divers out there. Carriacou is marked on the map by its excellent visibility, abundance of coral, and near proximity to over thirty dive destinations. The people of Carriacou have rich traditions that are woven throughout island life; from large drum dances to the lighting of all saint candles, their celebrations are colorful and lovely. For charter guests seeking culture, history, traditional boatbuilding, and Caribbean beach life - Carriacou has a lot to offer.

Day 3: Carriacou to Petit St. Vincent

Petit St Vincent, a private resort island near Union Island, is a paradise playground. With the Tobago Cays' magnificent snorkeling and diving just a few miles away, it's the ideal stop for charter clients looking for a dizzying dose of landbound luxury in between ocean excursions. Petit St Vincent spans 115 acres and is all about relaxed luxury and high-end elegance. You may breathe a sigh of relief with a boutique spa, swaying hammocks, picturesque beaches, and great dining selections. Watersport opportunities abound, ranging from swimming with sea turtles to flying across the surface with kite surfing, as well as plenty of island hopping. Petit St Vincent is also home to the Jacques Cousteau Diving Center, a cutting-edge facility for anyone seeking access to some of the area's top diving spots with the best instructors.

Day 4: Petit St. Vincent to Union Island

Union Island is often known as the Tahiti of the West Indies due to its volcanic silhouette. Its highest point is Mt. Parnassus. The island's main source of income is yachting and tourism. Clifton and Ashton are the island's two main towns, and both have modest boutique businesses as well as cute taverns and restaurants decked in brilliant Caribbean colors.

Day 5: Union Island to Tobago Cays

Tobago Cays' five little deserted islands (Petit Rameau, Petit Bateau, Baradol, Petit Tobac, and Jamesby) make a great charter location. The government of St. Vincent and the Grenadines manages the islands as a national marine park. There are spectacular scuba diving and snorkeling sites all around the islands that should not be missed! These coral reefs, as well as its clean white beaches and lovely bays, will leave you with wonderful memories.

Day 6: Tobago Cays to Canouan

Canouan, which translates to "turtle" in Carib, is best explored by yacht. This small hook-shaped island is located halfway along the Grenadines chain and has a modern airport that can accommodate mid-sized planes, a championship golf course, gorgeous homes, and a few of luxury resorts, making it a billionaire's playground. When all of the luxuries seem too much, there are lots of remote areas to dock in and four exquisite, pearly white, sandy beaches with turquoise waters to snorkel.

Day 7: Canouan to Mustique

The ideal charter destination is the opulent island of Mustique. The rich and famous magnificent mansions may be seen here, along with charming fishing communities with brightly colored fishing boats dotting the coastline. Britannia Bay and Endeavour Bay are ideal snorkeling spots since they are rich with marine life.

Day 8: Mustique to Bequia

With barely 7 square miles and a population of about 5000, the little island of Bequia is really the second-largest island in the Grenadines. You will be treated to a laid-back ambiance with hospitable natives, pristine landscape, and picture-perfect beaches here. The lone commercial center on the island is Port Elizabeth, the capital, where you may browse touristic gift shops and unwind with a cocktail at one of the charming bars. It is worthwhile to climb Mount Pleasant for a stunning sunset view, or if scuba diving is your favorite pastime, this location is another diving hotspot of the Caribbean. There are many diving locations in this area where you can see lobsters, moray eels, and hawksbill turtles. There is an excellent place to learn more about the Old Hegg Turtle refuge, which is located on the isolated north-eastern side of Bequia and has been working to protect the Hawksbill since 1995.

Day 9: Bequia to St. Vincent

Before disembarking, take a cruise up the coast to St. Vincent and spend the day unwinding in the remote Cumberland Bay.
