Day

1:

Split

Split, Croatia's stylish and dynamic city, is a one-of-a-kind joy. Split will open your heart with its bright energy and wealth of historic and modern marvels piled among the low mountains and jewel-blue sea. Charter tourists must see Diocletian's Palace, a UNESCO World Heritage Site that has enchanted travelers for over 1,700 years. This is Croatia at its most evocative, with its Roman center, lively bazaar, and romantic passageways filled with restaurants and wine bars. While the ancient town and surrounding area are densely packed with temples, churches, and ruins, Split also provides easy access to beautiful turquoise beaches, particularly Bacvice and the peaceful Kasjuni Bay.

Day 2: Brac

Brac is one of the largest of the central Dalmatian group of islands in the Adriatic Sea and one of the many stunning destinations to visit while enjoying a yacht charter in the Mediterranean. Brac offers a rich cultural and historical heritage going back to pre-historic times, as well as mouth-watering seafood, spectacular landscapes and bays, crystal clear sea and charming local hospitality. So many spectacular bays which you can reach by sea or land by quad bike. Reach the highest peak of the island Vidova Gora, views beyond beautiful, situated above the village of Bol where the famous Golden horn beach is found amidst much green vegetation and pine trees.

Day 3: Stari Grad

Stari Grad is a lovely and attractive Croatian fishing hamlet. A village surrounded by the blue waters of the Adriatic Sea, provides a picturesque backdrop for boat vacations. You can not only yacht the beautiful clear waters, but also explore the hidden coves and mountainous landscape. From snorkeling and lounging on the beach to a splash on a SUP board in the crystal clear waves, Stari Grad has something for everyone. If you want a more romantic experience, you can cruise and dine onboard served by your crew eating fresh seafood and drinking fine wine. Stari Grad is the ideal yachting spot for an unforgettable sailing adventure.

Day 4: Hvar

Hvar sparkles like gold in the sun. This Croatian town is regarded as a high-class seaside attraction and is one of the brightest places in Europe. The environment is a lovely blend of lavender and olive groves, rolling hills, red-roofed towns, and gentle, shaded pine forests, with famous topaz-colored skies shimmering over the azure sea. Hvar is one of the most appealing trading centers, with influences ranging from the Venetians to the Romans and Greeks. Visit the Franciscan Monastery to see the famous Last Supper painting, cruise on the gorgeous beaches of the Pakleni Islands, explore abandoned towns and walk along the fortress walls, and don't forget to drink some of the greatest Croatian wines available in the neighboring wineries.

Day 5: Palmizana

Palmizana is a peaceful island at a short distance from the idyllic island off Hvar. This bohemian paradise, part of the Pakleni Islands and home to warm turquoise waters, secret coves, and an explosion of gnarled olive trees and spiky cacti, is the perfect blend of magnificent laid-back style and glamour. During the summer, the island becomes a modest magnet for yacht charters and a fun crowd looking to sip cocktails, swim, and mix. The beach club provides cool areas to rest as well as delicious seafood dishes to break up the time spent in the sun and sea. There are many trails and other secret coves that guests can claim as their own if they want to avoid the party atmosphere.

Day 6: Vis

Vis is located in the north-eastern section of Vis Island, at the bottom of a sheltered harbor. If you enjoy culture, tradition, mystery, and the best Adriatic food, Vis, or Issa (as the ancient Greeks called it), is for you. One of the reasons Vis is regarded as a wonder is that it is a location where time stands still. Vis was founded by the Greeks in 397 B.C., yet it has preserved its old, irresistible Mediterranean appeal and life without worry and trouble to this day. It's a popular location for yachtsmen from all over the world, and you'll be able to discover Vis's secrets for yourself. Fun fact the famous musical "Mamma Mia Here We Go Again" was actually filmed on the Island of Vis!

Day 7: Solta

The island of Solta is another one of Dalmatia's unique locales where the ancient Croatian way of life has been mainly preserved. Donkeys are still a viable mode of transportation on the island, and the residents may be exceedingly giving, hospitable, and pleasant to guests. Its picturesque villages, vineyards, and olive orchards, not to mention its stunning beaches and natural coves, will undoubtedly enchant you. The pace of life here is noticeably slower than in other parts of Croatia, and it is this slower pace that offers the ideal ambiance for a leisurely break on your tour.

Disembarkation the following day in Split.
